About the artist

Myles Hilson is a self-taught, Atlanta based artist who has been honing his skills in mixed medium art for the past several years. Originally wanting to pursue a career using his vocal talents at a young age, Myles discovered that he had an untapped passion for the visual arts. Fortunately for Myles, he has been able to grow as a visual artist and a vocalist.

Drawing inspiration from Afro-centric aesthetics, abstract media, local street art, and classical arts, Myles Hilson has developed an elegant and electric style that is all his own.
